

Computer Maintenance

Workstation or Server Optimization

- To ensure the maximum performance of your system, it is required that system processes be customized regularly.

Workstation or Server Media Backup

- The most important part of computer maintenance is ensuring the consistency and reliability of system data.

Workstation or Server Data Transfer

- Planning to migrate to a new workstation or upgrade a server requires the process of system data continuity.

Internet and Email Account Setup

- Obtaining electronic information and accessing crucial world wide data is a modern business necessity.

Server Operating System Installation

- Before a workstation is fully operational, the proper OS must be loaded and configured accordingly.

Workstation Operating System Installation

- Server installation and configuration must be done properly in order to ensure the proper overall system operation.

Per Title Software Install and Setup

- Any additional applications that need to be utilized to improve overall success and productivity.

Virus or Spyware Scan or Removal

- Removing unauthorized or malicious processes from accessing critical system resources.